On this Tombstone was this beautiful Poem!

He rode the Rails heading West in 1909
Got off in the hills as he like them Fine,

Tried his luck to Fortune and Fame
Digging for Gold on a Mining Claim,

He asked for a job in his true Boston Style
Saying if I can't do the work I'll quit with a smile,

He lived upon a hill in a Frontier Shack
Failed with his Braun on a Railroad Track,

There were few his Equal at Spiking a Rail
Or Yoking his Water up a long Steep Trail,

He lived his life in Service to Others
Earning the right to his Blanket of Covers.
